ANALYTICS DEPOT

AI-Powered Data Analytics Platform

analyticsdepot.com | vineet@analyticsdepot.com

Date: 07/19/2026

LETTER OF TESTIMONIAL

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to offer my full and unreserved endorsement of Waleed Abbas, who has served as the Founding AI Engineer at Analytics Depot since September 2025. As CEO, I have worked with him directly throughout this period, and I can say without hesitation that he has been instrumental in taking our product from concept to a production platform.

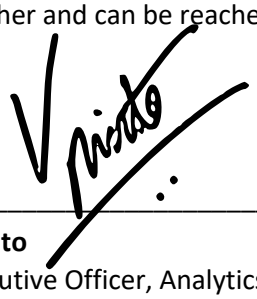

Analytics Depot is a B2B analytics SaaS that lets businesses analyze their data through conversational AI. Waleed designed and built the core of that experience. He architected our multi-provider AI backend across Claude, OpenAI, and Gemini with automatic fallback, built the streaming chat and analysis engine with sandboxed code execution, and delivered our document intelligence pipeline with retrieval-based search over uploaded files. He also built our natural-language-to-SQL capability and, critically, engineered the safety and validation layer around it, the kind of production hardening that separates a demo from a dependable product.

Beyond the AI layer, Waleed took ownership of the full stack: data connector integrations (Google Analytics, Google Sheets, BigQuery, PostgreSQL, Slack, Gmail), background job infrastructure, subscription billing, database migrations, automated testing, and our production deployment. He operates with the ownership of a co-founder rather than the mindset of a contractor. He scopes problems, proposes solutions, ships them, and monitors them in production.

Just as valuable is how he communicates. Waleed has a rare ability to explain complex technical decisions in plain business terms, which made him effective not only as an engineer but as a partner in product decisions. He is reliable, fast, and honest about trade-offs.

I recommend Waleed Abbas without reservation to any company seeking a senior AI engineer who can deliver production systems end to end. Any team would be fortunate to work with him. I am happy to speak further and can be reached at vineet@analyticsdepot.com.

Sincerely,

Vineet Pinto
Chief Executive Officer, Analytics Depot